Chat with Files using Gemini

User Question: what is Elaboration

AI Answer: Elaboration is a task in requirements engineering that focuses on developing a refined requirements model that identifies various aspects of software function, behavior, and information.